

The FSU Center for the Advancement of Human Rights and College of Motion Picture Arts in cooperation with The Village Square and the National Security Network is proud to present a Special Screening of Award winning director Michele Ohayon's feature length documentary film as witnessed by Richard A. Clarke, renowned counter-terrorism expert who served in multiple presidential administrations.

Where: Askew Student Life Cinema, 942 Learning Way (FSU main campus)

When: Monday, October 24th at 7:00 p.m.

*Guided discussion following screening lead by Juliette Kayyem (national security expert and cast member) from 8:30 to 9:00 p.m.

Admission is free and this special event is open to the public.

www.sosthefilm.com